Why do you need this service?

As a manufacturer in the UK, you will probably be worrying about spiralling costs of power and the risk of outages, on top of pressures to produce more from less – and to emit less carbon. Our Energy and Utilities Management services take the pressure off with innovations that have proven – over decades – to save costs and carbon, while maintaining productivity.

How does this solution make a difference?

Drawing on global expertise, our specialists will find the energy/utilities answer that works for your premises. What does this mean for you?

- Optimised energy and utility supply including heat/steam, electricity, refrigeration, thermal fluid, compressed air, process water and effluent treatment
- Design, build, operation and maintenance of on-site utility plant including combined heat and power and green energy solutions

- Maintenance of distribution networks
- Emissions monitoring and trading
- Environmental reporting and compliance
- Performance guarantee and risk transfer
- 24/7 year round monitoring, operation and support

Working in partnership with your production teams, we identify your energy and utility needs. We then retrofit and optimise your systems where needed to reduce costs and carbon. Finally, we bring in proven maintenance schedules that we've tested around the world.

Value delivered for you

With our energy and utilities management services, you can be sure of guaranteed utility supplies, stable and predictable energy and utility costs and carbon reductions. We also take care of any worries about unplanned maintenance costs.
